Washington, DC -- The DC Entertainment Office is pleased to recognize Interface Media Group (IMG) as the May 2017 Location of the Month.

Located in the heart of the Dupont Circle neighborhood of Northwest D.C., IMG is currently celebrating 40 years in business. Its 35,000-square foot production facility provides cutting-edge equipment and creative talent for almost any production need. This top-notch facility has earned numerous awards over the years including Emmys, CINE Golden Eagles and TIVA Peer Awards.

“Filmmakers can find everything they need under one roof,” states IMG President and CEO, Jeff Weingarten. “We are uniquely positioned to offer state of the art production tools as well as digital strategy all in one location. We’re in the middle of several VR and 360 video jobs and are looking to create a lab where filmmakers can come and experiment with these new technologies. We essentially have a full digital playground for filmmakers to stretch & exercise their creative wings.”

IMG has helped create documentaries, entertainment programs, commercials and promotional spots that have aired on HBO, PBS, Smithsonian Channel, National Geographic Channel and a variety of Discovery Networks. Their client roster includes advertising agencies, political campaigns, museums, government agencies and independent filmmakers.

The facility features two sound stages with high definition cameras and fully equipped control room, three audio mixing studios, fourteen edit suites, five graphic design and animation suites, color enhancement, web development and programming and many other support services. The agency prides itself on its creative talent and helping others effectively communicate, and plans to continue to do this here in the District for many years to come.
